Energizing Parking

SolarWing is an attractive, extremely efficient way of making the most solar energy through prefabricated parking structures that can dramatically cut energy costs of large buildings.

Economic Benefits:

- Our patent pending design optimizes solar orientation, producing significantly more power.
- We are extremely flexible in getting into existing construction times and duration to your facility.
- SolarWing pays for itself in as little as 10 years, with near maximum production for 25 years, providing a guaranteed flow of free energy for 15 years.
- Reducing energy costs and demands, increasing the value of existing energy production facilities as well, and provides a measure of energy independence.

$50,000 in energy produced by each SolarWing over a 25 year period.
